

The Joint Commission
Accreditation
Long Term Care

Long Term Care Accreditation:

- Provides education on good practices to improve business operations
- Helps lower predicted risk of litigation
- Helps organize and strengthen resident safety efforts
- Improves resident outcomes and assists in being prepared for state agency survey
- Enhances compliance with the Quality First principles
- Strengthens community confidence
- Provides a competitive edge in the marketplace

What do we hear from our customers?

“Since becoming an accredited long term care facility, we have received higher reimbursements at more than $75,000 annually. Joint Commission standards have enabled us to strengthen the care we provide, better respond to resident needs and demonstrate that caliber of care to others.”

*Bob Andres
President, PPh Group
Philadelphia Protestant Home
Philadelphia, PA*

“The new survey process is a better method to review the continuation and consistency of care. It focuses on the integration between all areas.”

*Jenn Briggs, RN
Director of Nursing
Evergreen Health Care Center
Stafford Springs, CT*
