

The Joint Commission
Certification
Health Care
Staffing Services

Health Care Staffing Services Certification

- Enhances contracting opportunities
- Provides a competitive edge in the marketplace
- Improves risk management and risk reduction
- Provides a management framework for quality, safety and improving performance
- Increases credibility
- Provides external validation of sound business practices
- Establishes criteria for providing appropriate and competent staffing services
- Can be a tool to attract and retain quality personnel
- Can fulfill regulatory requirements in select states www.jointcommission.org.

Finding a certified staffing firm is easy. Visit www.jointcommission.org/CertificationPrograms

What do we hear from our customers?

“Undergoing Joint Commission certification has proven very beneficial for us. The effectiveness and efficiencies we’ve seen have consistently exceeded our expectations and helped us deliver better service to our clients and travelers alike. Our processes have improved to the point where we can handle more business with less staff. In fact, our company has grown by over 260% since we first completed certification, and our ability to handle that growth is, in a large part, attributable to the procedures we implemented for our Joint Commission certification.”

Greg Allen

President

Cirrus Medical Staffing, Charlotte, NC

“Joint Commission certification is vital to our business. Most of the facilities we’re working with ask about our “Joint Commission status” in their RFPs, and we’re finding an increased percentage of our clients are now requiring Joint Commission certification in order to continue to do business with them.”

Melissa Krybel, RN, BSN

Director of Operations,

Clinical One, Wakefield, MA

“Certification shows our clients that they are working with a company that has as stringent standards as they do and that we take the extra steps to make sure the proper processes and procedures are followed. It gives our clients a sense of security and peace of mind knowing that their staffing company is Joint Commission certified. We have a number of facilities that have provided us with an increased bill rate due to our Joint Commission certification.”

Lisa Balesano

National Sales Executive

RN Network, Boca Raton, FL

Helping Health Care Organizations Help Patients