ACCEPTED: Revised Home Health Requirements Align with CMS

In spring 2013, The Joint Commission applied to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) for deeming authority for accredited home care organizations. In response to CMS’s fall 2013 review of its application, The Joint Commission revised several standards and elements of performance (EPs) for the Home Care Accreditation Program. The revisions, which are effective February 1, 2014, are designed to demonstrate equivalency to the current Medicare Home Health Conditions of Participation (CoPs).

The revised requirements appear on The Joint Commission website at http://www.jointcommission.org/standards_information/prepublication_standards.aspx and will be published in the E-dition® update and the 2014 Update 1 to the Comprehensive Accreditation Manual for Home Care (CAMHC) scheduled for release in spring 2014. The box on page 11 displays the revised requirements; new text is underlined.

In addition to the revisions shown below, terms and definitions from two sections of CMS’s State Operations Manual (“§484.2: Definitions” and “§484.4: Personnel Qualifications”) will be introduced into the CAMHC glossary in spring 2014. The home care crosswalk (available on E-dition) also has been modified with updated CoP tag numbers and existing Joint Commission requirements that further demonstrate equivalency to certain CoPs. Please note that any additional changes that may result from further CMS review will be communicated in future issues of Perspectives and JCOMonline.

<td>A 3. For home health agencies that elect to use The Joint Commission deemed status option: The initial assessment visit may be made by an appropriate skilled rehabilitation professional (physical therapist or speech language pathologist) when rehabilitation therapy service (speech-language pathology, physical therapy, or occupational therapy) is the only service ordered by the physician, and if the need for that service establishes program eligibility, the initial assessment visit may be made by the appropriate skilled rehabilitation professional. Note: Occupational therapy services provided at the start of care alone do not establish eligibility; therefore, occupational therapists may not conduct the initial assessment visit under Medicare.</td>
<td>A 2. For home health agencies that elect to use The Joint Commission deemed status option: A multidisciplinary team, including health professionals that represent at least the scope of the program, reviews samples of both active and closed patient records at least quarterly to determine whether policies were followed for services provided either directly or by arrangement.</td>
