What is The Gold Seal of Approval® from The Joint Commission?

Our organization voluntarily underwent a thorough evaluation by The Joint Commission. The goal of the evaluation? To see if our organization meets the Joint Commission's rigorous performance standards in delivering safe, high quality care, treatment or services. By meeting these standards, our organization received The Gold Seal of Approval® – an internationally recognized symbol of quality.

The Joint Commission accredits and certifies more than 22,000 health care programs worldwide and focuses on continually improving care by setting the highest standards for health care quality throughout the world. In setting the standards, The Joint Commission consults behavioral health leaders and quality and safety experts to review the current standards and make recommendations for improvements.

Accreditation and Certification

Achieving accreditation and/or certification means that our staff has made an extra effort to review and improve the key areas that can affect the quality and safety of your care, treatment or services.

Accreditation and certification by The Joint Commission are considered the gold standard in behavioral health care evaluation. Specially trained behavioral health care professionals who are experts in their fields visited this facility to conduct a review that monitors how well our staff:
